Dr. David B. Henson
PRESIDENT

A New Beginning

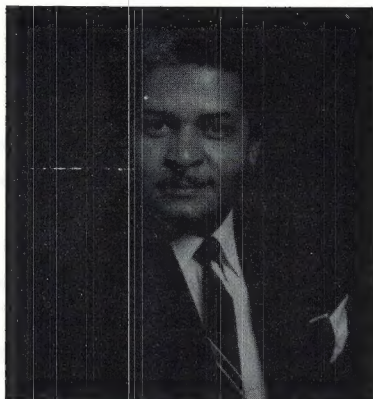

The top spot on the Hill has been racked with much controversy over the past few years. Alabama A & M University has been through many changes including three presidents in the past five years. But now things are starting to come together and a new beginning has begun starting with Dr. David B. Henson. Dr. Henson is in his first year as President of Alabama A & M University. He took over the reigns in January of 1992 after a lengthy search for a leader.

Dr. Henson brings to his position tons of experience along with impressive credentials that more than illustrate his competence. Henson's educational background began with a B.A. in Biology from Florida A&M University in 1961. He also received a M.Sc. ED. in Chemistry from Tuskegee Institute and a Ph.D. in Biochemistry from the University of Iowa. Further study earned a Certificate in "Computer Assisted Instruction and Independent Study Methods in Medical Education" from the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

The fruits of Dr. Henson's educational labor bore many opportunities and various professional experiences including Acting Chairman, Department of Biochemistry Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, and Assistant Professor of Biochemistry at Howard University College of Medicine. Henson also served in prestigious positions at the University of Texas Medical School, Yale University, Florida Atlantic University, University of Colorado at Boulder, and in the University of Colorado System where he served as Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs/Human Resources and Personnel from May 1989 until he came to serve here on "The Hill" earlier this year.

In addition to his tremendous workload, Dr. Henson finds time to participate in several civic and community activities including being on the Board of Directors of several organizations as well as an active member of the A.M.E. Church, Urban League and a host of other honorable organizations. For all of his efforts Dr. Henson has received numerous awards such as the African Americans Who Make a Difference Award, several awards for "Excellence in Teaching", and for Outstanding work in both Undergraduate and Graduate Studies. Dr. Henson has also distinguished himself by being in several academic publications, including the Environmental Effects of Molecular Structure and Properties, J. Phys. Chem. 77, and the Diss. Abstract It. B. Sci. Eng. (1972).

Alabama A&M University has certainly been gifted with such an outstanding individual to take the helm and provide great leadership in the "New Beginning".

Gene Bright
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Presently heading the Department of Athletics at Alabama A&M University is Interim Athletic Director Gene Bright. Although his position is Interim, he is no stranger to the job. His extensive experience and training is uniquely suited for the task, in that he has served two previous terms as Athletic Director in the late 70's and early 80's.

Bright's academic credentials overwhelmingly qualify him for his position as well. He received his B.S. degree in Health, Physical Education and Recreation from Jackson State University; MED degree from Tennessee State University, where he coached under the late John A. Merritt; and his Ed.S. degree from the University of Alabama.

Bright's extensive experience includes 27 years of service at Alabama A&M, 22 of which have been in the A&M Athletic Department. He served as head coach of A&M's golf team for 18 years. During that time, Bright's golfers won seven SIAC championships and earned three NCAA postseason berths. He also served for two seasons as defensive coordinator under Head Football Coach Louis Crews. His career hasn't always been atop "the hill". He served for three years as Head Football Coach and Assistant Athletic Director at Rust College in Holly Springs, Mississippi.

In addition to acting as Interim Athletic Director, the Danville, Kentucky native is also an assistant professor in the Department of Health and Physical Education and head of the National Youth Sports Program (NYSP) at Alabama A&M.

Bright and his wife Neva are the proud parents of two daughters, Nina and Dione.

Betty Kelly Austin
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Betty Kelly Austin is in her ninth year as Assistant Athletic Director. However, her story goes back further than 1983.

Austin, a homegrown Huntsville, Alabama native is a 1973 graduate of Alabama A&M University. After receiving her bachelor's degree in Health and Physical Education, Austin went north to the University of Michigan where she earned her masters.

In 1977, Austin returned to her alma mater and became the virtual matriarch of Alabama A&M women's sports. She was appointed Coordinator of Women's Athletics. However, Austin served in several capacities including volleyball coach, women's basketball coach and as an instructor in Health & Physical Education. In 1983, she was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director and Assistant Professor in the Department of Health and Physical Education.

Since coming to A&M and serving as its first full time volleyball and basketball coach for women, Austin has had several volleyball players named All-State and All-Tournament. The volleyball team has totally dominated the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference for the past eight years. Since the SIAC officially sanctioned volleyball as a conference sport in 1986, A&M has won five consecutive titles. For her accomplishments, Austin was honored in 1990 by the Alabama A&M Booster Club with the prestigious Golden Torch Award.

Austin has had many exciting and fulfilling experiences since beginning her athletic career at A&M. In women's track and field, the team has qualified for the National Championships every year since 1979. They have placed in the NCAA Division II Championships for the past eleven years since the women's program was placed under the governance of the NCAA. The Lady Bulldogs have finished in the top five each year since 1982, including a second place finish in the 1991 Track and Field Championships in San Angelo, Texas. In 1992, the Lady Bulldogs participated in the NCAA Division II Indoor National Championships for the first time ever. They shocked everyone by bringing home the first place trophy.

In swimming, the A&M swim team won numerous Black National Swimming and Diving Championships before the program was discontinued in 1988. In women's basketball, the Lady Bulldogs have taken four conference titles and made two trips to the NCAA Division II Playoffs, including playing host to the opening round in 1984, and participating in the South Regional in Jacksonville, Alabama in 1991.

Ray Bonner is entering his first season as Head Football Coach at Alabama A&M University. Under his leadership as Interim Head Coach last year, the A&M Bulldogs finished the season as the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Co-Champions. Bonner, who previously served as Assistant Coach joined the A&M Staff in 1989.

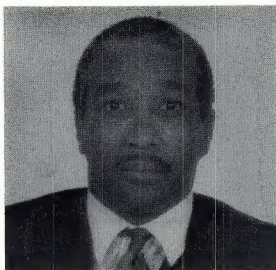

During his tenure as Educator and Coach in the state of Georgia, Bonner has earned an impressive array of coaching credentials, including Head Track Coach at Southwest DeKalb High School in Decatur, Georgia. The Southwest DeKalb Panthers won the 7 AAAA Region Title in 1986, 1987, 1988 and 1989. In 1987, the Panthers won the State Championship. Bonner also served as the Panthers' Assistant Football Coach when they played for the North Georgia Championship three out of four years.

As Head Football Coach at Columbia High in Decatur, Georgia, Bonner had a 37-21 record. He guided the Columbia Eagles to the Area Championship, Region Championship, North Georgia Championship and the State Championship in 1982.

Brawnski Towns, a 1970 graduate of Alabama A&M, enters his 15th season as an assistant coach for the Bulldogs. Towns, who received a bachelors degree in Mechanical Drafting Technology Design is widely regarded as one of the best defensive backs to ever "don" the maroon and white.

A native of Bessemer, AL, Towns is a 1965 graduate of George Washington Carver High School. After graduating from Alabama A&M Towns coached at A&M for six years before accepting an assistant coaching position at the University of Arkansas-Pine Bluff. After coaching at UAPB for eight years, Towns returned to A&M as an assistant coach in 1984.

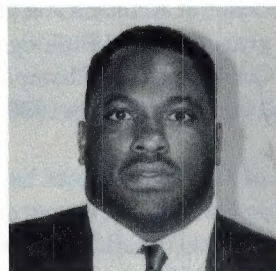

Towns, who also serves as the head tennis coach at A&M, coached baseball during his first coaching stint with the Bulldogs. In 1992, Towns led the men's tennis team to a fourth-place finish in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SIAC) Championship.

The Alabama A&M defense, under the tutelage of Towns, is considered one of the best in the country among NCAA Division II schools. The Bulldogs led the nation in pass defense and total defense in 1987 and 1988. In 1988, the Bulldogs led the nation in scoring defense. In 1990, the Bulldogs finished fourth.

In 1989 the Bulldogs yielded only 213.3 yards per game in total defense. In rushing defense, the Bulldogs yielded only 83.2 yards per game.

ALABAMA A&M UNIVERSITY BULLDOGS 1992 FOOTBALL PROSPECTUS

NORMAL, AL—The 1992 Bulldogs will fly into the new fall season with a new pilot. Former Bulldog running back coach Raymond Bonner will take the helm for the 1992 campaign. Bonner took over in an interim capacity after the Bulldogs' homecoming game against Morris Brown. He lead the Bulldogs the rest of the way enroute to a share of the third consecutive Southern Inter-collegiate Conference title. The Bulldogs finished the season 5-6 overall (2-3 under Bonner) and 5-2 in the SIAC. Though A&M had to share its 1992 title with four other SIAC schools, it was still a "threepeat".

Once again, the Bulldogs return 13 starters (8-offense, 5-defense) for 1992 . A&M also returns 38 lettermen, while losing only 18 .

There are slight questions hovering over the Bulldog offense. Who will fill Bulldog record holder Tracy Kendall's shoes? Who will take over the field general's spot to guide the A&M offense through dangerous defenses? Two gunslingers will be in the forefront battling for the honor of carrying the Bulldog torch into the gridiron wars for 1992 . Senior quarterbacks Chris Raymond (6-2, 180) and Caraston Daniels (6-0, 175) will jockey for the starting nod this fall. Both have seen action throughout their careers with most of the playing time coming during the 1990 season when Kendall was injured. Both players saw limited action in 1991, with Daniels seeing the most playing time in five games. Daniels completed 11 -of-24 passes for 150 yards. Though he is holder on fieldgoals and extra points, Raymond got into one contest against Alcorn State in Dallas. He didn't get off a pass, but he was sacked three times.

At RUNNING BACK, the Bulldogs should be solid this season. Tailback Reginald Leslie is gone but the stable is still rich, lead by sophomore running back Antoine Harden. Harden rushed for 457 yards on 96 carries and scored two touchdowns. Along with Harden, tailback Eddie Cooper and fullback Terrance Cooper add more punch to a strong running attack. Terrance Cooper gained 334 yards on 89 carries. He tacked on five touchdowns. Meanwhile, Eddie Cooper wasn't far behind with 238 yards on 59 carries.

The backs will have a solid, experienced offensive line to run behind. The Bulldogs lost only one brick in the front wall, but several other bricks are waiting to step in to plug the hole.

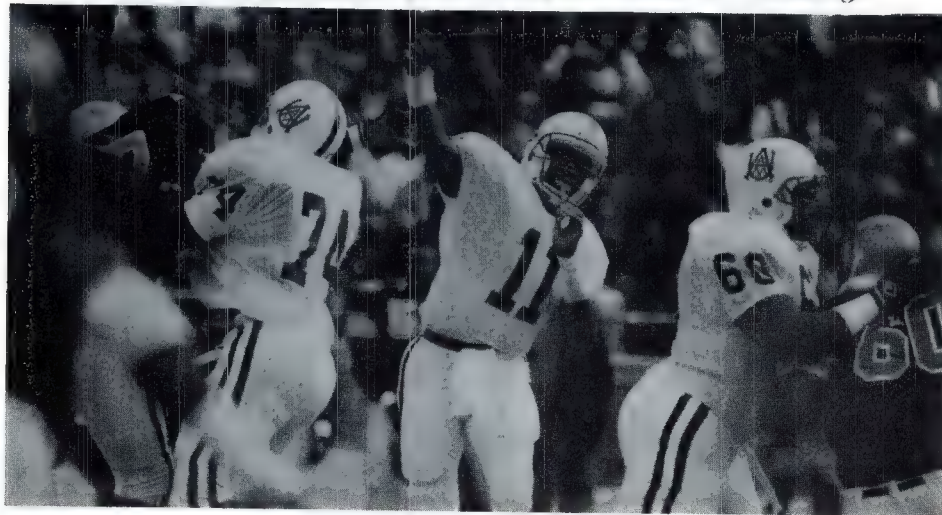

Wideouts Anthony Thomas and Pat Lee will lead the corp of receivers in the 1992 season. Thomas spent last season hobbling from a less than 100% ankle. However, he still managed to lead the team in receiving with 41 receptions for 501 yards and three touchdowns. Lee had to move into the roll of "go to" man when Thomas was out of commission. He came in right behind Thomas with 30 receptions for 384 yards. With the graduation of Anthony Walker it will be up to junior tight end Robert Rogers and sophomore Glendell Pettus to fill the void. Walker accounted for 25 receptions for 332 yards and one touchdown. Together, Rogers and Pettus combined for six receptions and 61 yards.

On defense, only five starters return from last season. Only one, Lee Green (39 tackles, 8 sacks), returns to the defensive line. The other four were starters in the secondary. Junior strong safety Hugh Thomas (41 tackles and one interception), Vincent Banks (22 tackles), Richard Taylor (19 tackles), and Roderick Issac (46 tackles, one interception) will be back in the secondary. Adding to the depth in the secondary are four other players who saw extensive playing time last season. Junior free safety Tyrone English shone the brightest of the four making 57 tackles including a half sack. He also had two interceptions, one which he returned 100 yards for a touchdown against Central State. Also senior cornerback Thaddeus Campbell (52 tackles), junior free safety Deric Childs (9 tackles), and junior strong safety Eric Childs (12 tackles) return to strengthen the secondary .

Along with Green, who also drops to play linebacker, junior linebacker Khris Downing (16 tackles, one interception) and sophomore David Peterson (19 tackles and a sack) will form the nucleus guarding the heart of the Bulldog defense .

ON SPECIAL TEAMS, sophomore placekicker Frank Hawkins returns to handle the kicking chores for the Bulldogs. In 1991, Hawkins missed his only fieldgoal attempt, but hit 7-of-9 of his extra-point attempts. A&M will have to find a replacement for four-year starting punter William Garth. Garth averaged 36.9 yards-per-punt during his career as a Bulldog.

#1 ERIC BLUE

6-0, 170, Junior, Wide Receiver
Montgomery, Alabama (R. E. Lee)

Blue, a standout wide receiver from perennial champion Robert E. Lee is a very talented athlete. He worked double duty in 1991, both at wide receiver and on special teams as a kick returner. If his confidence continues to build, Blue should be a pleasant surprise in '92.

#40 THADDEUS CAMPBELL

5-10, 160, Senior, Defensive Back
Birmingham, Alabama (Ensley)

Campbell possesses blazing speed. He can run down most wideouts attempting to slice through the A&M secondary. During the 1990 season, Campbell played on special teams and started the final two games at cornerback. It was also in 1990 that Campbell blocked an extra point against Tuskegee in the SIAC Championship Game which preserved a 44-43 Bulldog victory. Campbell is expected to get extensive play during the '92 campaign.

1990: 24 tackles and 1 blocked point-after attempt

1991: 52 tackles- 1 fumble recovery and 9 pass break-ups

#42 DERIC CHILDS

Attalla, Alabama (Etowah)

Deric played sparingly on special teams in 1990, but saw some increased playing time in the Bulldog secondary in 1991. He is a very intense player and a hard hitter. Deric had a good spring back in the A&M secondary and coaches look for him to get a lot of playing time in '92.

#43 ERIC CHILDS

1991: 12 tackles and 2 pass break-ups

#14 EDDIE COOPER
5-11, 165, Junior, Tailback
Cincinnati, Ohio (Mt. Healthy High)

Eddie is the Bulldogs' "Scat Back". He has the ability to make quick cuts and is capable of breaking loose at any time. He was moved to tailback in 1990 and adapted to the position well. He was used frequently last season interchanging with Reggie Leslie. Eddie also returned kickoffs in '91. He had a very productive spring. Coaches say that he was simply one of the best backs on the field during the spring drills. They also feel that Eddie must improve as a blocker and bulk up a bit. If he continues to improve, he could very well be one of the best backs in the SIAC.

1990: 4 carries for 18 yards
1991: 59 carries for 238 yards- 7 receptions for 95 yards- 26 kickoff returns for 562 yards

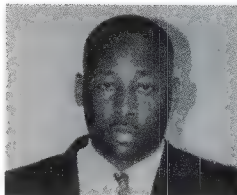

#38 TERRANCE COOPER
6-0, 230, Senior, Fullback
Attalla, Alabama (Etowah)

For three seasons, Terrance has been a starter. For three seasons he has bowled his way through opposing defenses. He may be one of the most underrated backs in the conference. Cooper is extremely effective in short yardage situations. He simply does not fumble and only knows one direction; forward. Terrance has proven to be a "big" asset to the Bulldogs during his first three seasons. He brings plenty of bulk to the backfield and carries a load of power. Terrance showed signs of ALL-SIAC potential late in the spring. Coaches say he is steadily improving in the blocking area. They feel that if Terrance uses his full potential as a hard-nosed back, he will be a force in '92.

#2 CARASTON DANIEL

6-0, 175, Senior, Quarterback
Montgomery, Alabama (Carver)

Daniel steadily showed improvement through the 1989 and 1990 seasons playing backup to Tracy Kendall. He saw a limited amount of play during '91. Daniel has a rocket arm and is quite mobile. Though he missed spring drills with an injury, coaches expect him to contend for the starting spot this season.

1990: 15 carries for 1 yard-completed 25 of 60 passes for 246 yards and 3 touchdowns

#46 KHRIS DOWNING

6-2, 230, Junior, Linebacker
Brundidge, Alabama (Pike County)

Downing, affectionately known by his teammates as "Gator", played on all special teams in 1990, and increased that production in '91. He had an excellent spring working at the linebacker position. Gator worked hard and was one of the most impressive on the defense. He has an excellent feel for what's going on on the field. Coaches feel Gator is a potential starter, especially on special teams.

1990: 7 tackles

1991: 16 tackles and 1 interception

#37 TYRONE ENGLISH

5'11, 180, Junior, Safety
Smyrna, Tennessee (Labergne)

English played sparingly in 1990, but got extensive playing time last season. He was a consistent starter in '91 making significant contributions to the A&M secondary. English began the '91 season as a backup free safety, after being moved from wide receiver. He moved up the depth chart midway through the season. His biggest thrill of the '91 campaign was a record setting 100 yard interception return against Central State of Ohio.

1990: 1 tackle

1991: 57 tackles - 1/2 sack - 2 interceptions and 10 pass break-ups - Second on the team in tackles - returned one interception 100 yards for a touchdown against Central State (new A&M record)

#60 JERRY HARRIS

6-3, 310, Senior, Offensive Lineman
Attalla, Alabama (Etowah)

Harris has been a part-time starter for the past three seasons. Although he missed spring practice with injury, coaches have high expectations for him in '92. Coaches also believe Harris has to raise his intensity level another notch. They have confidence that he has the strength to do it, and that he will be a big contributor on the Bulldog front line.

#74 LUCIOUS HARRIS

6-2, 270, Junior, Offensive Lineman
Montgomery, Alabama (R. E. Lee)

Harris started part-time as a Freshman and once again last season. He is an extremely good athlete who could be one of the finest offensive linemen to ever play at A&M. Harris is a very smart player, who in the coaches' opinion, is a definite winner. He had an excellent spring. He got better fundamentally and continues to improve. Off season was a big plus for Harris since he improved and increased his strength. He has also gotten better with his assignments and making adjustments on the field. Harris will be one to watch on the A&M offensive line this season.

#21 RODERICK ISSAC

6-0, 175, Senior, Defensive Back
Bessemer, Alabama (Jess Lanier)

Issac has been a prolific starter at both safety positions. He was switched to cornerback last season to utilize his speed and quickness. He had some injuries in '92 that slowed his activity. Issac is a hard hitter and a headhunter. Coaches say he had a very good spring and they expect him to be a leader in the secondary, having a banner senior year.

1991: 11 tackles - 2 sacks

#6 RASHIDI JONES

5-11, 190, Junior, Wide Receiver
Miami, Florida (Northwestern)

After watching the action from the sidelines in 1990, Jones saw quality action last season. He is a very talented athlete who runs very well and has a knack for coming down with the ball in traffic. Jones is also quite strong and has bulked up significantly over the spring and summer. Coaches feel if he continues to work hard and keeps up his concentration level, Jones could be a premier receiver.

1991: 9 receptions for 93 yards and 1 touchdown

#8 PAT LEE

5-11, 170, Senior, Wide Receiver
Decatur, Georgia (Southwest DeKalb)

Simply stated, Lee is an athlete who can fill any void on the offense. For example, during the spring Lee was temporarily moved to quarterback to fill in for the injured Caraston Daniel. He is very intelligent and manages to always find an open spot in the opposing secondary. Lee is a smooth operator with excellent hands. He worked hard during the off-season on becoming faster and stronger. Coaches feel that it is that work ethic that could gain Lee "big time" receiver status.

1989: 3 carries for 44 yards - longest run was a 34-yard touchdown scamper on a reverse in a 49-0 win over Tuskegee - 1 interception
1990: 1 carry for 1 yard - 25 receptions for 244 yards and 1 touchdown

#83 JEFFREY MEEKS

6-2, 230, Sophomore, Tight End
Mobile, Alabama (B.C. Rain)

After moving from the offense to defense during the spring of '91. Then he moved from the defense to the special teams during last season. On special teams, Meeks served as the long-snapper in punt formation. During the spring, Meeks worked some at tight end. He is a valuable commodity to the special teams because of his ability to snap very well. Coaches feel with some additional bulk, Meeks could get playing time at tight end.

1991: 2 tackles

#61 JOSEPH PATTON

6-5, 250, Junior, Offensive Lineman
Birmingham, Alabama (Jones Valley)

Patton did not see action in '90, but was a starter last season. He missed spring drills, but coaches expect him to be back on the front line this season. Patton runs well and has bulked up during the off-season. He has great quickness and Bulldog coaches feel that Patton is the kind of athlete that will help the team tremendously if he continues to improve with strength and fundamentals.

#49 DAVID PETERSON

6-2, 190, Sophomore, Defensive End
Attalla, Alabama (Etowah)

Peterson started three games last season and did very well on the Bulldog defense. He harassed opposing quarterbacks relentlessly and though he only had one sack, he caused a number of hurries. The pass rush is by far Peterson's strong suit. He had a great spring and according to coaches, Peterson is holding steady and making improvement. He is expected to make some noise in '92.

1990: 2 tackles

1991: 19 tackles--1 sack

#78 DONALD QUEENER

6-3, 320, Junior, Offensive Lineman
Youngstown, Ohio (East)

Queener was a full-time starter as a freshman and most of last season. He has the potential to be a fine offensive lineman, in fact, A&M offensive line coach Mike Markuson feels Queener could be one of the best if he pushes himself the way coaches expect him to. Queener is very strong and with good leg drive he could be one of the key people on the Bulldog offensive line.

#18 CHRIS RAYMOND

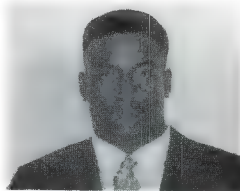

6-2, 180, Senior, Quarterback
Mobile, Alabama (John L. LeFlore)

Raymond comes into the '92 campaign vying for the starting slot. With the departure of starting ace Tracy Kendall, and an injury to backup Caraston Daniel keeping him out of spring practice, Raymond was thrust into the number one spot. He came into his own late in the spring and coaches expect good things from Raymond this season. He has definitely worked hard to improve himself during the off-season. Raymond had a chance to start against Fort Valley in 1990 when both Kendall and Daniel went down with injuries. He did a bang-up job, winning Player of the Game honors. Coaches feel that Raymond is a very capable quarterback, and when given the chance, will provide some thrills for A&M fans. Raymond is also a good basketball player.

Rogers was a part-time starter in 1990 as a Freshman and saw some action in a backup role last season. Rogers is expected to be an impact player both as a receiver and a blocker. With his work ethics, coaches see nothing but continuous improvement from him. This off-season, Rogers will get bigger, faster and stronger. He already possesses good speed and a tremendous attitude.

1990: 8 receptions for 91 yards and 2 touchdowns
1991: 5 receptions for 47 yards

#95 ARTHUR SCOTT

6-2, 290, Junior, Defensive Lineman
Houston, Texas (Ross Sterling)

Scott started as a freshman, but was hampered most of the '91 season with injuries. Now that he is healthy, coaches feel he should push Roderick Bryant for the start at defensive tackle. As a freshman starter, Scott had an excellent game against North Alabama earning him Defensive Player of the Week. Though he missed spring practice, due to a knee injury, coaches expect him to be healthy and able to play on opening day.

1990: 30 tackles - 1 fumble recovery and 1/2 sack
1991: 23 tackles - 1 blocked kick

#3 ROBERT SMILEY

6-3, 185, Junior, Wide Receiver
Montgomery, Alabama (Sidney Lanier)

Smiley saw limited action in '91. He was moved from tight end to wide receiver during the fall. Smiley has good hands and fine speed to go with a great attitude. He made great strides during the spring and his confidence has improved. Smiley is doing a better job of interpreting coverages and running better routes. He has the potential to be a fine receiver and coaches feel Smiley can make an impact this year.

#62 BRUCE SYKES

6-0, 250, Senior, Offensive Guard
Miami, Florida (North Miami)

Sykes is one of the most intelligent players on the field. Coaches say that he is the most welcomed face back on the Bulldog offensive line. They also said that Sykes is the Bulldogs "Jekyll and Hyde". He is very easy-going, that is until he suits up. Sykes is an excellent fundamental technician. He also runs well and is extremely strong. Sykes is also a hard, dedicated worker, who is an academic honor student and ROTC candidate off the field.

1989: Named to the SIAC Academic All-Conference team

#9 ANTHONY THOMAS

6-1, 180, Senior, Wide Receiver
Montgomery, Alabama (Carver)

Thomas has all the tools and the work ethic to become the finest receiver ever to play at Alabama A&M. He is one of, if not the most explosive athletes in Division II football. Thomas possesses blazing 4.5 speed and is very strong. That speed was slowed last season by a nagging ankle injury. However, a fully recovered Thomas will wreak havoc on opponents in '92. Truly, "A.T." is the Bulldogs' premier receiver and coaches feel that with some fine tuning of his routes and understanding of defenses, Thomas should be able to move on to the next level.

1989: 1 carry for 30 yards - 3 kickoff returns for 54 yards - 8 receptions for 166 yards and 2 touchdowns - Returned a kickoff 79 yards for a touchdown against Jacksonville State in the playoffs

#24 RICHARD TAYLOR

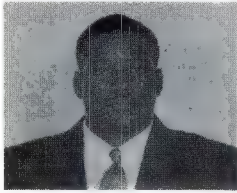

6-0, 170, Senior, Cornerback
Montgomery, Alabama (R.E. Lee)

Taylor was a starter at corner at the beginning of last season. However, a violent collision in the season opener against Miles, knocked him out for most of the season. He later returned to finish out the '92 campaign. Now, fully recovered, coaches expect Taylor to be a leader this season, and be prepared to play a lot. Taylor has outstanding quickness and is capable of playing all positions in the defense backfield. Best of all, he will have the luxury of experience to help him guide the Bulldog defensive backfield.

1989: 26 tackles and 1 pass break-up

1990: 30 tackles - 5 pass break-ups - 2 fumble recoveries, 1 sack and 1 blocked punt

#17 HUGH THOMAS

5-8, 175, Junior, Strong Safety
Decatur, Georgia (Southwest DeKalb)

Thomas started two games as a freshman and was a regular starter last season. He is an excellent tackler who will be called in this season to use his toughness and speed to fill some holes in the defense. Thomas will be a main contributor who will probably alternate between the secondary and the linebacking corp. He is a leader both on and off the field. An outstanding student, Thomas will be a candidate for Academic All-America this season.

6-0, 230, Senior, Inside Linebacker

1990: 4 tackles

#92 CALBERT LYNCH

6-1, 280, Junior, Defensive Lineman
Detroit, Michigan (Pershing)

#90 SHAWN WILLIAMS
6-3, 200, Freshman, Defensive Line

#54 LEE GREEN

6-1, 213, Senior, Linebacker
Birmingham, Alabama (Fairfield)

Green had a fantastic season in '91. He alternated as a starter and backup wreaking havoc on opposing offenses. Green is a vicious pass rusher and is tough against the run. He is quick and very strong. Green led the team in sacks last season. He was moved from outside linebacker to inside linebacker in the spring. Coaches say that he seems to have adjusted well and will be a definite probable starter in '92.

1991: 39 tackles - 8½ sacks - 2 fumble recoveries and 4 pass break-ups

#55 MAURICE HOLMES

Birmingham, Alabama (Huffman)

Davis saw action last season as a backup in the Bulldog backfield. Coaches characterize him as an 'in-betweeners'. Though he appears to be too slow to play halfback and too small to play fullback, he somehow gets the job done. Davis has the potential to be a complete player. He should see plenty of action in '92.

1991: 10 carries for 26 yards - 1 reception for 4 yards

#35 CARY EDWARDS

5-10, 190, Sophomore, Running Back
Birmingham, Alabama (John Carroll)

Edwards has very raw talent, but has the potential to help. He shows good foot speed and it was showcased during spring drills. In one of the intra-squad scrimmages, Edwards had a big run for a touchdown. He could see action this season if he improves as a blocker and as an inside rusher.

#89 DEVERICK WILLIAMS

5-10, 155, Sophomore, Wide Receiver
Gadsden, Alabama (Etowah)

Williams became a complete receiver in late spring. He saw limited action in '91, but with positive results. Williams is a smart receiver who can find holes in the defensive secondary. He must improve as a blocking receiver. However, he is a very confident player and coaches feel that Williams will be a great control receiver for the Bulldogs.

1991: 3 receptions for 15 yards

#84 ALAN GREEN

6-0, 165, Junior, Wide Receiver
St. Petersburg, Florida (Gibbs)

Green did not see action in '91. Coaches feel that Green has a good understanding of the Bulldog offense. They also feel that he will be a contributor. Green will need to fine tune his skills to get playing time. He is a tough competitor who is not afraid to go after the football.

#77 STURGIS BURNS

6-4, 300 Senior, Offensive Lineman

Mound Bayou, MS (Coahoma Junior College)

Burns was an important part of the Bulldog offensive line in '91. He had an excellent spring and was more confident in his ability to block and make adjustments. Coaches feel Burns' strength-training during the off-season was a big plus and it contributed to his rise in confidence. Burns' spring performance will carry into the fall making him one of the Bulldogs' top linemen.

#75 JOE ELLIS

6-2, 320, Sophomore, Offensive Line

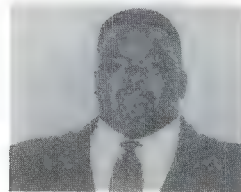

Birmingham, Alabama (Jess Lanier)

Ellis did not see action as a freshman. Coaches believe he needs more reps in order to improve on learning assignments and adjusting to defensive fronts. He must continue to work on his strength. Coaches are high on Ellis. They say that he is very catchable and wants to get better. Ellis indeed has a future on the A&M front.

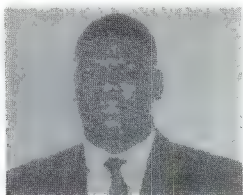

#67 RONALD McINTOSH

6-1, 262, Sophomore, Offensive Line

Huntsville, Alabama (Lee)

McIntosh or "MAC" as he is known by his coaches, is a situation player. He saw extended action in situations last season. MAC's upper-body strength and excellent techniques allow him to get under a defender's pads and drive block. However, coaches feel that he has to become more confident in his abilities. Mac played at least ten snaps a game during the '91 season.

#91 WILLIAM ROLACK

6-3, 230, Sophomore, Defensive Line
Miami, Florida (Northwestern)

Rolack did not see action last season due to an injury off the field. A&M coaches feel that with some additional coaching and Rolack's willingness to learn, he could possibly be used in special blocking situations.

#71 ARTHUR WYNN

6-3, 280, Sophomore, Offensive Lineman
Decatur, Georgia (Tower)

Wynn saw action on the A&M offensive front last season. He has plenty of natural ability. Wynn has great feet and could be a quick tackle. Coaches feel that if he improves, he will be a great player and will compete for a starting slot.

#86 GLENDELL PETTUS

6-3, 225, Sophomore, Tight End
Montgomery, Alabama (Robert E. Lee)

Pettus saw limited action in a backup role to Anthony Walker last season. He also played some on special teams. He missed spring practice splitting time on the Bulldog baseball team. Pettus has great physical tools and will be expected to add some depth to the tight end spot. In fact, if he comes out strong during fall/pre-season practice, Pettus could vie for the start.

1991: 1 reception for 14 yards - 4 tackles

#4 FRANK HAWKINS

5-9, 180, Senior Place Kicker
Quinton, Alabama (Dora)

Hawkins shared the kicking chores with graduated place kicker Joey Thornton. He exhibited a strong leg, but struggled with accuracy during the '91 season. Hawkins worked hard during the off-season to improve his touch, but he will still have to earn himself the starting slot. Hawkins is also a two-sport player, splitting duty with the A&M baseball team.

1991: missed his only field goal attempt - hit 7-of-9 extra points

#5 ANTOINE HARDEN

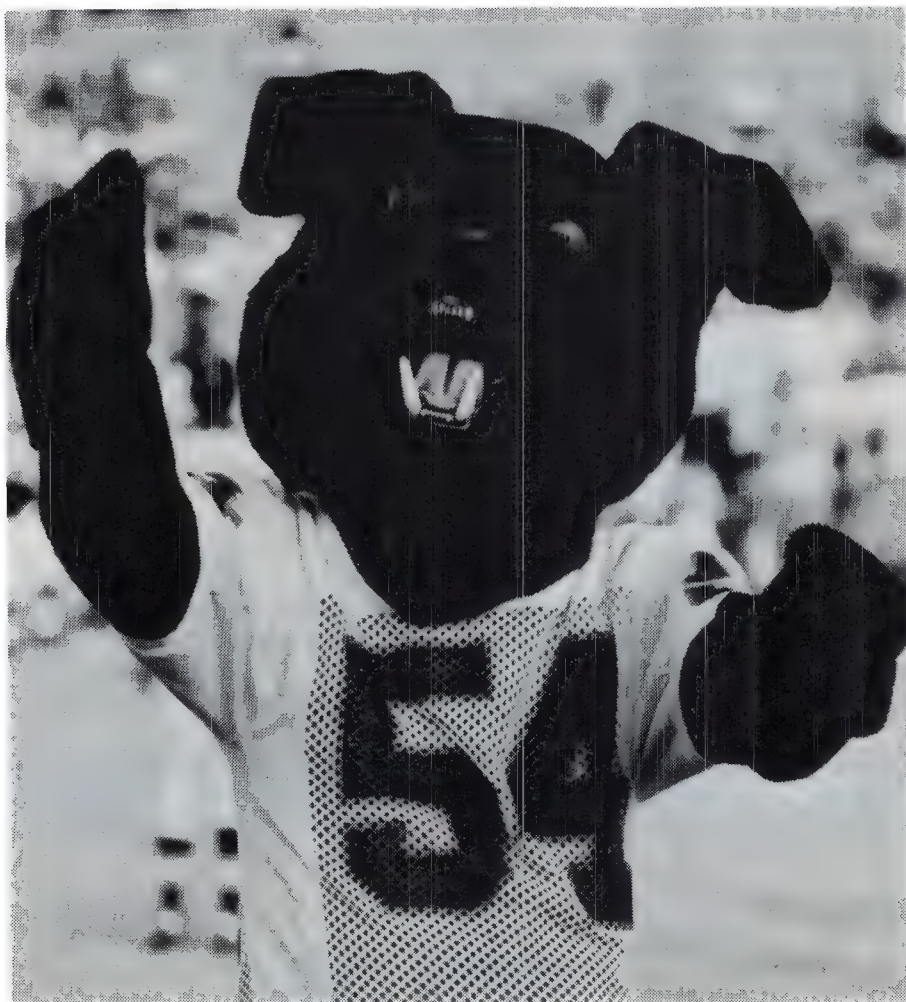

5-8, 170, Sophomore, Running Back
Montgomery, Alabama (Carver)

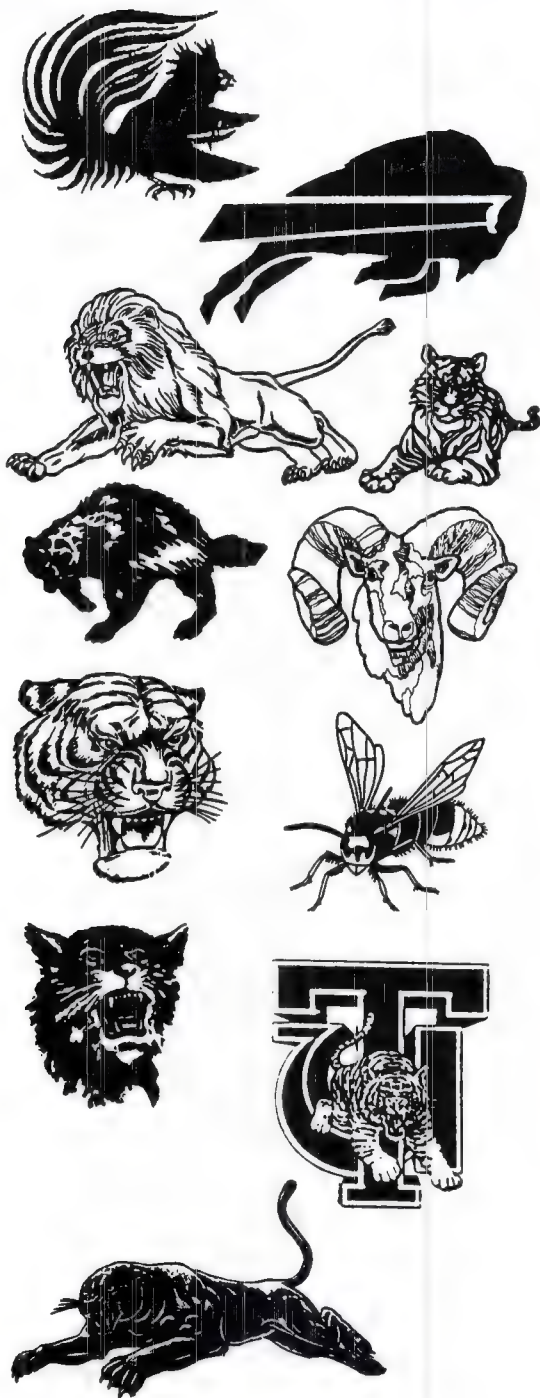

Harden is aptly named because he is a "hard-one". With his low center of gravity and powerful drive, Harden is not only a tough target to hit, but an even harder target to bring down. As a freshman, he played in only half of the A&M games, but ended up the team's second leading rusher. In fact he only finished 30 yards behind leading rusher Reggie Leslie. Harden only started two games last season, but ran for over 100 yards in two games in which he didn't start. He also served as a part-time kick returner. Harden missed spring drills, but has worked extra hard in the summer heat to stay sharp. He is expected to pick up where he left off in '91.

1991: 96 carries for 457 yards and 2 touchdowns - 3 receptions for 23 yards - 6 kickoff returns for 96 yards - rushed for 100 - plus yards in two games

CLOUDY SEASON ENDS WITH A SILVER LINING

GAME 1 AUGUST 31, 1991 ALABAMA A&M 23 MILES 13

BIRMINGHAM, AL—Alabama A&M used a three-touchdown second quarter to outlast a surprisingly tough Miles team 23-13 in the season opener at Legion Field.

The Golden Bears came out and shocked the Bulldogs with two quick first quarter strikes to take a 13-0 lead. Then the defense stiffened, while the offense decided to answer the bell. Quarterback Tracy Kendall quickly brought the Bulldogs back, running for one score and passing to wide receiver Rashidi Jones for the second. A&M jumped ahead 14-13.

Fullback Terrance Cooper bulled in from three yards out just before the half to pad the Bulldog lead at 21-13.

In the second half, the A&M offense went back into hiding, but the defense remained stingy. In fact, the defense scored the only points of the second half off of a safety.

GAME 2 September 7, 1991 Jacksonville State 44 Alabama A&M 18

JACKSONVILLE, AL—It was over before it started. The Bulldogs came in with a lot of questions to be answered. The biggest one of all was, "what did the lackluster performance against Miles mean for A&M?" Well, the effect was loud and clear as JSU rolled past the Bulldogs 44-18.

Once again, it was the Gamecocks' vaunted flexbone offense that did most of the damage. JSU ripped the helpless A&M defense for over 400 yards of total offense. Of that total, 379 yards were on the ground. JSU quarterback Nickey Edmondson accounted for 153 yards of the team's total and scored a touchdown. Most of which came in the first half.

Edmondson led the Gamecocks to an impressive, commanding 23-0 lead at the intermission. A&M tried to limp back in the second half, scoring early in the third quarter on a two yard run by Antoine Harden. But, the Gamecocks responded with two quick touchdowns knocking down the nails in the coffin.

The loss dropped the Bulldogs to an even 1-1.

GAME 3 September 14, 1991 Alcorn State 38 Alabama A&M 10

IRVING, TX - For the second consecutive week, the Bulldogs stumbled out of the gate, and the results were disastrous. A&M fell hard on the Texas Stadium turf 38-10 to Alcorn State. With quarterback Tracy Kendall suffering with a nagging shoulder injury, the Bulldog offense remained ineffective.

Once again A&M fell behind early as the Braves jumped ahead 18-3 by the half. The second half only got worse as ASU quarterback Steve "Air" McNair had a fieldday, throwing for 253 yards and two touchdowns. By the time A&M raised the white flag, the scalping was on as the Braves raced out to an insurmountable 38-3 advantage.

Kendall hit wide receiver Maurice Houston for a late touchdown, but it was much too little and much too late. The Bulldogs took home another depressing loss, dropping to 1-2.

Central State (OH) 31 Alabama A&M 13

LOUISVILLE, KY - The tailspin continued. The Bulldog offense remained 'missing in action', and mistakes were abundant as Central State crushed A&M 31-13. The loss perhaps stung a little more since it happened live on Black Entertainment Television.

Though the Marauders rolled up 426 yards of total offense, the Bulldogs still could have won the game. A&M played well, but mistakes and big plays spelled doom.

The Bulldogs only trailed 7-0 after a quarter. Then A&M gave up an 82 yard punt return to the Marauders. CSU added a field goal right before the half to lead 17-0. In the third quarter another mistake put the Bulldogs deeper in the hole. One more Bulldog turnover was converted into an 18 yard fumble return for a CSU touchdown.

The final blow came early in the fourth quarter, when a Marauder reserve tailback escaped and raced 54 yards for another touchdown. The game disintegrated into an embarrassing whitewash at 31-0.

A&M picked up a couple of late scores, but they went virtually unnoticed. Unnoticed, with the exception of one Bulldog TD. That touchdown was the only real bright spot for the Bulldogs. Defensive Back Tyrone English put a slight smile on the Bulldog fans' faces when he picked off a CSU pass and raced 100 yards for a touchdown. It was the longest return in A&M history.

GAME 5 September 28, 1991 Alabama A&M 27 Savannah State 25

SAVANNAH, GA—The Bulldog offense finally woke up, fueled by a balanced attack. A&M rushed for 134 yards and passed for 203 as the Bulldogs slipped past the favored Tigers 27-25. The Bulldogs came into the game considerable underdogs after being pelted three weeks in a row. However, the team responded in one of the biggest conference games of the season.

The Bulldogs got the scoring started with a 3-yard run early in the first quarter by Tracy Kendall. On the very next drive Savannah State answered with a 7-yard scamper by Lucious Cole. The Tigers blew the extra point, leaving A&M with a 7-6 lead at the end of the second quarter.

Both teams traded touchdowns in the second quarter capping off excellent drives. The Bulldogs maintained the lead at 14-13 at the half.

In the third, the see-saw continued as both teams went airborne. SSC struck first as Chad Alexander hit C. R. Phillips for a 19-yard touchdown. The Tigers jumped back up 19-14. Right back came the Bulldogs as Kendall found Anthony Thomas for a 27-yard touchdown pass putting A&M back up 20-19.

After putting a stop on SSC, the Bulldogs launched a drive which stretched into the fourth quarter. The drive was capped off when Kendall hit Thomas for another 27-yard touchdown putting the Bulldogs ahead 27-19.

Back roared the home team with a 6-yard run by Cole after a bad snap from punt formation deep in A&M territory. The Tigers' two-point conversion failed leaving the Bulldogs with a slim two point lead.

That lead stood up as SSC bungled several opportunities down the final stretch. The Tigers' final drive died at the A&M 19 yard line when Phillips was dropped for a big loss on a fourth and nine reverse attempt. The win boosted the Bulldogs' record to 2-3. More importantly, A&M was now a perfect 2-0 in the SIAC.

GAME 6 October 5, 1991 Alabama A&M 12 Morris Brown 7

HUNTSVILLE, ALA. - It would later be dubbed the "Mud Bowl". Homecoming '92 would see the Bulldogs do battle against Morris Brown in a relentless rainstorm. As one might expect the slush didn't allow much offense by either team. But A&M managed to muster just a little more than the Wolverines, splish-splashing to a 12-7 victory.

Despite the nasty weather, A&M rolled up over 300 yards of offense, evenly distributed with 152 yards rushing and 157 yards passing. With those numbers, it would seem that the Bulldogs would have taken this one easily. Especially since Morris Brown could only manage 144 total yards. The problem was the negative production. Five turnovers and 149 yards on 18 penalties constantly ruined excellent drives by A&M.

The Bulldogs got on the board first when Tracey Kendall hit Maurice Houston for a 9 yard touchdown pass midway through the opening quarter. The extra point failed but A&M held on to the 6-0 lead until intermission. In fact, the slim advantage held up through the third quarter.

Then the Bulldogs made a critical mistake. Kendall fumbled deep in A&M territory and MBC recovered at the Bulldogs' 13 yard line. Three plays later, Wolverine quarterback Rondal Griffin found tight end Trenton Orendorf for a 6 yard TD strike. The Wolverines converted the point after, giving them a 7-6 lead with 12:48 to go in the game.

With a potentially embarrassing situation at hand, the Bulldogs mounted the winning drive from their own 45 yard line. It took eight plays for the Bulldogs to march 55 yards to paydirt. Kendall ended the drive when he found Anthony Walker for a 7 yard touchdown strike.

The win wasn't pretty, but it evened the Bulldogs' record at 3-3 overall and 3-0 in the SIAC.

GAME 7 October 19, 1991 Alabama A&M 25 Albany State 20

ALBANY, GA. - After two weeks of turmoil off the field, the Bulldogs, under the leadership of newly appointed Interim Head Coach Ray Bonner, responded to the adversity with an exciting 25-20 victory over Albany State. It was the Bulldogs' third win in a row and perhaps the most meaningful one of the season given what the team had endured over the previous two weeks. In that time, A&M had lost its coach (George Pugh) and had its name splashed nationally. However, the Bulldogs stood tall in the 80 degree Albany, Georgia heat and prevailed.

Albany State scored first, but Bulldog Back Reginald Leslie answered with a 9 yard run late in the first. A&M missed the point-after leaving ASC with a 7-6 lead at the end of one. Ram back Tony Reeves extended the ASC lead with a 1 yard crack early in the second quarter.

A&M closed the gap in the middle of the quarter when Terrence Cooper bowled in for a 1 yard run of his own. The two point conversion failed, leaving ASC with a tight 14-12 lead at the half.

The Bulldogs finally took the lead in the third when the freshman tailback Antoine Harden, who finished the day with 81 yards, exploded up the middle and raced 25 yards for a touch down. With the extra point, A&M held a 19-14 lead. That lead stood up until 9:42 in the fourth quarter when ASC regained the lead at 20-19.

Then came the thrilling finish. With their backs against the wall, the Bulldogs took over in excellent field position at the ASC 25 yard line. That was set up by short Ram punt combined with a good return by Senior Wideout Maurice Houston. Surprisingly, A&M crept along eating up three minutes off the clock. On a third down and four from the ASC seven, A&M quarterback Tracy Kendall rolled left and just as he got inside the 5 yard line, he flipped a pass into the end zone which was caught by tight end Anthony Walker. However, the play was nullified because Kendall had crossed the line of scrimmage. That set up the big fourth-and-five from the ASC eight.

Kendall brought his troops to the line. Then there was a shift, as wideout Anthony Thomas circled into the back field. At the same time, Kendall went in motion. The ball was snapped to Thomas. He then lobbed a floater over a totally confused Ram defense to a wide open Kendall for the score.

ASC protested heartily but to no avail. A&M had slipped away with a big one.

GAME 8 October 26, 1991 Fort Valley State 35 Alabama A&M 7

HUNTSVILLE, ALA. - After three straight victories, the Bulldogs rolled back home to host the Fort Valley State Wildcats. It was not a good day for Coach Ray Bonner and the Bulldogs as the visitors ran wild in a 35-7 rout.

Following a scoreless first quarter, the Wildcats broke the ice when A&M quarterback Tracy Kendall was intercepted by FVSC defensive back Tyrone Poole. Poole returned the pick 44 yards for the game's first score.

The Bulldogs tied the score later in the quarter when Kendall made amends for his errant pass by scoring on a 9 yard run.

Then the ceiling fell in all over A&M. On the Wildcats' next drive, FVSC quarterback Hubert Hogan hit wideout Mark Owens on a 41 yard bomb to put FVSC up 14-7. Then, in the waining moments of the half, Wildcat back Thomas Burke scored from 7 yards out. At the half, FVSC had a comfortable 21-7 lead.

In the second half, A&M's offense went into hiding, while FVSC coasted on down the home stretch. The Cats added two touchdowns, including an 81 yard interception return by defensive back Fred Sands.

The loss brought the Bulldogs back to earth dropping them to 4-4. It was also A&M's first loss in the SIAC causing a log jam atop the conference.

GAME 9
November 2, 1991
Alabama State 59 Alabama A&M 13

BIRMINGHAM, AL - It was the 50th Annual Magic City Classic. Over 70,000 fans packed Legion Field, braving the harsh cold, to witness the making of history. What they saw was one of the best halves of football, then total annihilation as the Hornets tore apart the Bulldogs 59-13. It was by far the worst whipping inflicted on A&M all season, compounded by the presence of a national television audience once again.

ASU got on the board first as running back Anthony Lewis scored from one yard out midway through the first quarter. The Hornets missed the extra point, leaving the door open for A&M to retaliate which they did. The Bulldogs responded with an 11-play 89-yard drive which culminated with a 1-yard plunge by Reginald Leslie. Unfortunately, A&M also blew their extra point which left the score knotted at 6-6 at the end of the first quarter.

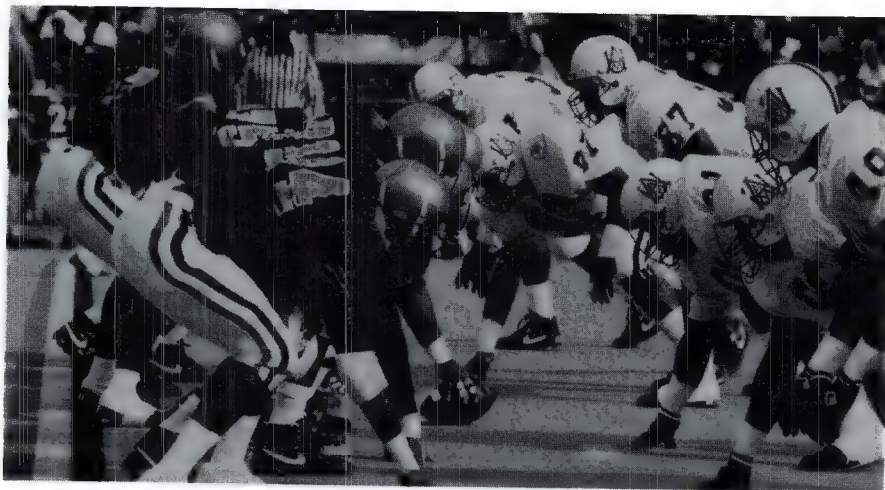

After stopping the Hornet charge, the Bulldogs mounted another long drive to open the second quarter. This trek took 13 plays, covered 88 yards and ate up 5:16 off the clock. Once again, Leslie finished up the drive with his second 1-yard run. This time, the point-after was good giving A&M a 13-6 lead.

That would be all she wrote for the Bulldogs as the nightmare began. First,

Lewis broke loose for his second touchdown, racing 27 yards for a Hornet touchdown. The extra point failed once again, leaving the Bulldogs with a shaky 13-12 lead. That lead didn't last long as the Hornets struck again after the Bulldogs fumbled the ensuing kickoff. Three plays later ASU quarterback Rickey Jones hit wideout Reginald Brown for a 5-yard touchdown. The Hornets had regained the lead 18-13. The Bulldogs tried to answer the bell once again, mounting another long drive. However the drive fizzled inside the ASU 20-yard line. The red-hot Hornet offense took over and quickly moved down the field for another touchdown. This time, ASU back Rico White did the honors from 17 yards away. After a two-point conversion, the Hornets were pulling away building a 26-13 halftime advantage.

The second half saw the swarm become more and more vicious as the Hornets stung the Bulldogs repeatedly. Five more times the Hornets would score, while the Bulldogs just faded away. All together, the Hornets had scored eight unanswered touchdowns to complete the slaughter.

The 59 points scored by ASU were a Magic City Classic record. Along with that record, the record for Most Combined Points was broken (72), and the 70,200 attendance figure was a new Classic record.

GAME 10 November 9, 1991 Alabama A&M 28 Clark-Atlanta 18

ATLANTA, GA - The Alabama A&M offense exploded for 470 yards as the Bulldogs evened their record at 5-5 with a 28-18 win over Clark-Atlanta. The win was indeed impressive, especially given that the game was played at one of the nation's worst stadiums; Herndon Field. Bulldog quarterback Tracy Kendall had one of his best days of the season completing 15-of-28 passes for 210 yards. He also carried the ball 13 times for 37 yards and a touchdown. Freshman tailback Antoine Harden also had a banner day carrying 26 times for a season high 120 yards.

This game turned out to be another heartstopper. CAU got on the board first when Panther quarterback Charles Parks hit his favorite target, wideout Felix Lewis from 26-yard out. Parks finished the game completing 22-of-40 for 317 yards and three touchdowns, all to Lewis. Lewis ended the day with 12 receptions for a whopping 195 yards and the three touchdowns.

Trailing by six points, the Bulldogs roared back with a drive which mixed the right amount of ground and air attack. Fullback Terrance Cooper, who scored three touchdowns on the day, rolled in from a yard out to pull the Bulldogs even. With the extra point, the Bulldogs led 7-6.

In the second quarter, Parks found Lewis once again for his second touchdown. The play covered eight yards and it gave the Panthers a 12-7 lead at the half.

A&M came back in the third quarter to regain the lead when Cooper scored his second TD with another 1-yard dive. The touchdown put A&M back on top 14-12. Then, later in the third, the Bulldogs got a little breathing room. With the ball resting on the midfield stripe, Kendall escaped around the left end after receiving a devastating block on the sideline. Kendall raced untouched 48 yards for an A&M touchdown. The Bulldogs now led 21-12.

However, the home team didn't give up. With time running out in the quarter, Parks and Lewis hooked up again from 11 yards out for the third Panther touchdown. CAU failed to convert the two-point try, leaving the score 21-18.

With the CAU speed and quickness posing a constant threat, the Bulldogs needed some insurance. They got it in the form of Cooper's third 1-yard plunge. From that point, the A&M defense was able to contain the Panther offense, keeping the Parks-Lewis combination virtually quiet the rest of the way.

GAME 11 November 16, 1991 Tuskegee 43 Alabama A&M 20

HUNTSVILLE, AL - The stage was set for another A&M-Tuskegee showdown for the SIAC title. However, this showdown had a different twist. A&M came in with the upper hand and stood to win the title outright with only one loss in the conference. Meanwhile, Tuskegee had two losses and could only wish for a tie. Also, three other teams in the SIAC were wishing for an A&M loss. This would cause a five-way logjam atop the SIAC. Well, they got their wish as Tuskegee quarterback Maurice Heard had a career day passing for over 400 yards and five touchdowns, leading his Tigers to a resounding 43-20 victory. Heard ended up completing 25-of-42 passes and throwing only one interception. His favorite target, senior wideout Chris Holder carved up the Bulldog secondary with nine receptions for 231 yards and four touchdowns. The only highlights for A&M were provided by freshman tailback Antoine Harden who rushed for over 100 yards for the second week in a row. He finished the game with 118 yards on 27 carries. Meanwhile, senior quarterback Tracy Kendall had a rough time on his last day as a Bulldog, completing only 14-of-35 passes for 160 yards. He was also sacked a ribacking six times.

Tuskegee jumped out of the chutes early, scoring on their first possession. Tiger back Howard Rodman capped off a nine play, 69-yard drive on a four yard run. Then, after a good Bulldog punt put the Tigers back deep in their own territory, Heard ignited the Tuskegee faithful when on first and ten from his own eight, he went deep to Holder. Holder ran under the well-placed bomb, made the grab, and raced 92 yards for the score. The Tigers held a 13-0 lead. That lead stood up until intermission as both teams had good drives fizzle late in the second quarter.

In the second half, Heard struck again. Once again, it was Holder on the other end. This time, Heard found Holder slicing across the middle and nailed him for a 62-yard catch and run. The Tiger lead grew to 19-0.

The third quarter would turn out to be the wildest one of the game. Both teams exchanged shots at each other. Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, though the offense came out of the cobwebs, Heard didn't cool off. He never even reached lukewarm.

After A&M senior back Reginald Leslie finally got Bulldogs on the board with a 4-yard run, Heard matched the effort with another strike to Holder. Tuskegee still held a comfortable lead at 27-7 lead. Leslie returned fire for the Bulldogs with his second touchdown from two yards out. However, Heard responded with his fourth touchdown pass to Holder from 20 yards out. The ball was just too high to climb as the Tigers continued to cruise into the final period of the season leading 35-13. Both teams exchanged scores in the fourth quarter with Leslie picking up his third touchdown and Heard firing his fifth touchdown pass.

The loss finished the Bulldogs' season at 5-6 overall. The loss also meant that the Bulldogs finished in a five-way tie for the SIAC crown at 5-2.

Alabama A&M University

"We Put Education First"

Alabama Agricultural and Mechanical University (AAMU), located in Huntsville, Alabama, is a co-educational land-grant institution, serving more than 4,900 students. Founded in 1875, the University has modern facilities for housing and health care, a well rounded Intercollegiate athletic program for males and females and provides complete food services for its students. A modern Learning Resources Center serves as an up-to-date library and an instructional Media Center for University students and is open to the Huntsville community.

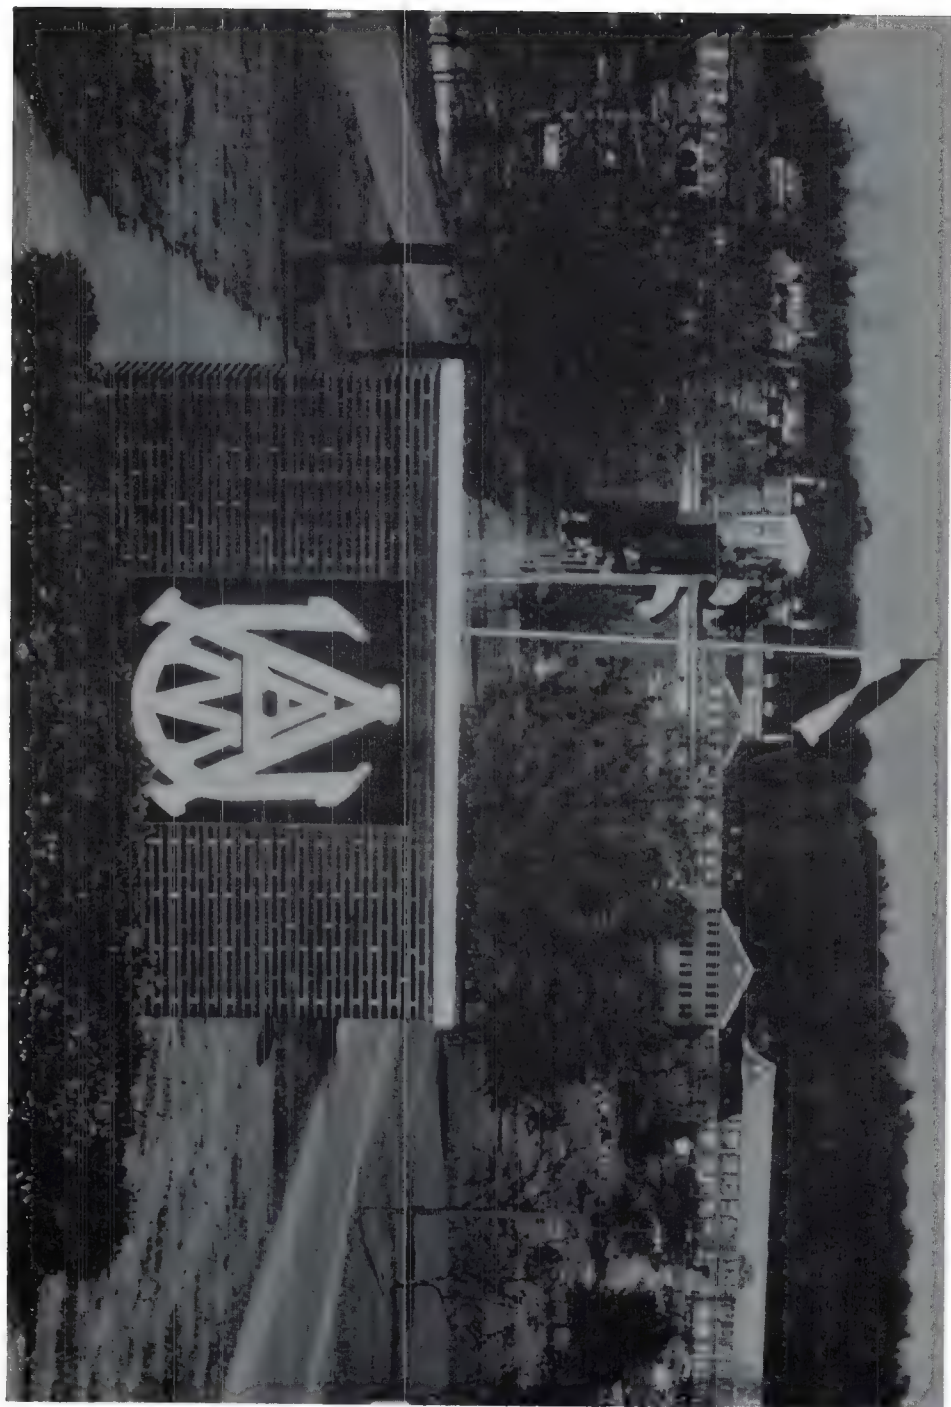

Academic offerings include six major areas of concentration: The Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics, Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, and Engineering and Technology. These schools offer 70 undergraduate majors. A School of Graduate Studies, offering the master's degree in preparation for the A and AA certificates and also the ED.S. degree, forms a seventh unit, and is related to the undergraduate majors offered. There are 35 majors in this unit. There are three Ph.D programs in the area of Physics, Plant and Soil Science, and Food Science.

Research at the University is conducted in the Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics, Arts and Sciences, Education, and Engineering and Technology. The University received more than 19 million dollars in the 1989-90 fiscal year for research and demonstration projects, sponsored by local, federal and private funds.

As a land-grant institution, AAMU is dedicated to a strong extension and outreach program, primarily sponsored through the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The major thrust of the extension program is improving the quality of life of families throughout twelve North Alabama counties.

The Telecommunication Center at the University is one of eight production facilities designated to produce local and state-wide programming for the Alabama Public Television Network. The center provides state of the art equipment allowing the students to receive on-the-job training while attending classes. The University has recently acquired a 1000,000 watt FM radio station—WJAB stands for jazz and blues. Students are encouraged to do internships at the station to gain experience for the world of broadcasting. AAMU offers both a major and a minor in telecommunications.

In addition, the Career Advisory, Placement and Cooperative Education programs offer a variety of services to students, which include on-campus and off-campus interviews with industries throughout the nation. The Cooperative Education program enables students to gain experience in the work-a-day world while earning an education.

"The Marching Maroon and White"

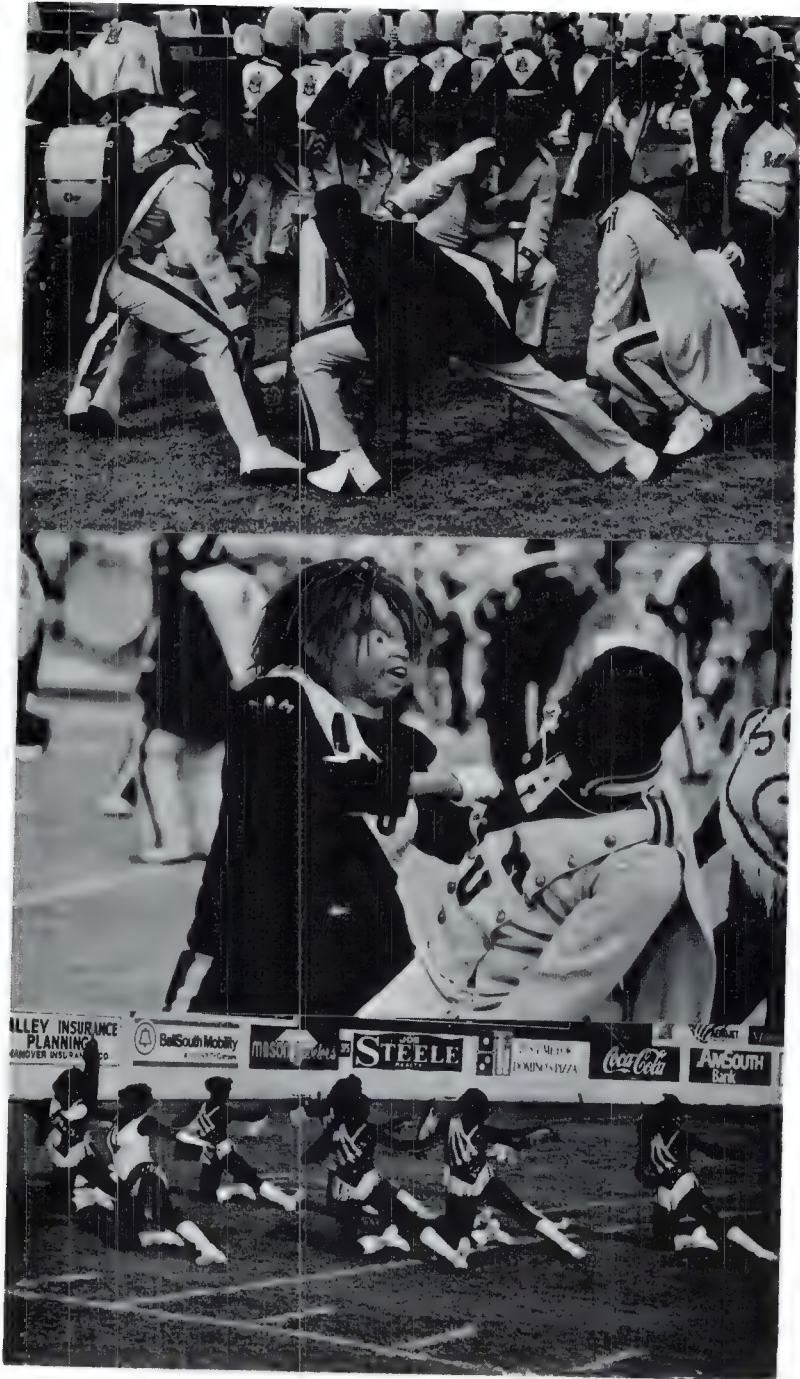

In the beginning, our founding father, William Hooper Councilll had definite convictions about the humanizing power of music. He then employed W. C. Handy, the "Father of the Blues" to lead the small band (1900-1903). Music has flourished on Normal's Hill ever since.

The band has come a long way from its humble beginnings. It is presently led by Mr. Arthur Wesley who came on board at Alabama A&M in 1974 and became Director of Bands in 1979. Today The Marching Maroon and White consists of approximately 300 members. They perform at various parades, contests, and social events throughout the southeast. In 1990, they lead the Martin Luther King, Jr. birthday parade in Chicago, Illinois.

During the football season they provide spectators with half-time entertainment and aesthetic exposure of the highest quality. Their field performances are nothing short of spectacular with action-packed and exciting dance routines, innovative formations, and powerfully motivating music.

This fall expect great things from this great assemblage of talent; the one, the only, "The Marching Maroon and White".

A&M's BEST STUDENT ATHLETES

The CoSIDA/GTE Academic AU-America Football Team, selected by members of the College Sports Information Directors of America, honors the nation's best student-athletes. Just as the balancing of football and academics is difficult, the standards for nomination and selection to the team are rigorous. To be nominated, a starter or key reserve player must have a minimum 3.200 cumulative grade point average (on a 4.00 scale).

In 1989 and 1990, Tracy Kendall was named as a first-team quarterback on the GTE Academic All-America Team. In addition, the school received $10,000 after Kendall was named the Toyota Leader of the Year by Black Entertainment Television (BET). Kendall received the Toyota Leadership Award during the 1989 Magic City Classic and the Eddie Robinson Academic Achievement Award at the 100% Wrong Club's Annual Banquet. The awards contributed $1,000 and $2,500, respectively to Alabama A&M.
